NATURE EDUCATION CONFERENCE 2027

Uniting Education, Nature and Natural History for the Next Generation

Join educators, conservationists, environmental organisations and businesses for a day of inspiration, collaboration and practical ideas focused on the future of environmental education and nature recovery. Bringing together leading voices from across education, conservation and industry, the conference provides opportunities to exchange ideas, share best practice and explore innovative approaches to engaging young people with the natural world.

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Lizzie Daly

Wildlife Biologist • Broadcaster • Explorer

Lizzie Daly is an award-winning wildlife biologist, presenter and explorer who is passionate about connecting people with nature through storytelling, conservation and adventure. Lizzie will open the conference with a keynote address exploring the importance of inspiring the next generation of environmental leaders.
